for you.

We were made for Love.

Out of pre-existence, God imagined a life with us. A thought and idea He couldn't keep as a fantasy that had to become His greatest reality. He gifted himself humanity to not only love, but to be made from and by the Love He saw in Himself.

When we see ourselves, we see God too. When we love each other, we feel and understand God's heart towards us. We are designed for intimate oneness with God as the love and heart of our life.

To be human is to be with God.

We are God's gift that He made for, to, and from Himself to unwrap and enjoy.

hupuan peing.

I was made for you.

Every part of me reaches out to you for life. There's no part of me that understands living without you. My heart is your treasure chest that's filled with all of your wonder. My mind is an ocean that's filled with all of your intimate thoughts. My soul remains filled by your never-ending love-span.

I was made to be with you.

To know anything else, is to not be human. There's nothing to look for or something more for me to find because you are the everything that supplies all of my longings and reaches.

All of me is tied to all of you.

The moment I opened my eyes to what you call a life, you were the only thing I felt certain about in my heart.

When I'm not with you, I'm not living, I'm experiencing something I was never made to know.

Death.

Me without you.

/21/e.

I was made for Love.

You're the only person who can determine my worth. You're the only person who knows all of me.

You're the only person who's heart will never fade and mind will never change towards me.

I am yours.

I am your bride whom you will never be separated from. I am the treasure you keep hidden inside of your heart. There is no you without me. You will never see your life without us being together.

The moment you birthed a thought of me in your eternal resting place, you were in love with me before I knew you and knew how to love you. You designed me to receive all of you as my Gift who will never stop giving.

Before you gave me a name, you gave me a heart filled with your never-ending love for me.

You left nothing for me to do.

You accomplished every task and delightfully fulfilled every work so that the only thing I can do is be with you. You made sure nothing would stand in our way of enjoying each other in the beauty of your awe and wonder.

Work is for the dead and not for the living. There is nothing to earn with you but everything to receive from you. What can I offer you that you don't already have and what can I gain when I already have you?

I was made to rest and lie down in your goodness that loves being good to me. What a freedom we have when we're together because you will create every desire in me to want what you want.

Out of your generous heart flows an over-abundant life that comes from me just sitting with you.

All I want is to stay right here with you.

jan.

You enjoying me is what strengthens me.

When you look at me, you see your unwrapped love-gift staring back at you. You see the obsession of your heart that drew you out of your eternal resting place. Your eyes are stuck on what you made because to see me is to see you.

There's no one you enjoy being with more than yourself, which is why you made me in your likeness. You will never lose your delight towards me because you will never stop delighting in you.

My joy is fueled by your ability to love me as much as you love yourself. Because there will never be a day where you stop choosing you, there will never be a day where you stop choosing me.

You loving to know me is what fills my heart to want you.

peace.

You settle me in your calmness.

What is there to be afraid of when you're never afraid? You have no history of defeat or demise. You carry everything in the palm in your hand while still carrying and caring for all of me.

It is impossible for you to forget me.

Your mind is filled with the most romantic thoughts of me. It is unthinkable for you to forsake me. There is no place where I can go that can keep you from being there with me.

My heart stays at ease because you're never bothered by what you're the God of. I will never hide from you because you will always see me being yours to care for.

The only life I look at to keep me still is yours.

I believe what you believe about you.

You're the only person who knows all of who you are. You made me to know you. In the cool of the day, you share your beliefs about yourself with me.

The only version of you that exists, is the version you tell me.

You've known yourself far longer than I will ever know you. Your history of being God far outweighs my eternity of knowing you. I can see you with my own eyes and feel you with my own heart. The more I know you, the more I want to let you love me.

Who else could I mimic or be like that can outdo or out-God you? You're the only person death cannot defeat. I will never find another you which is why you're the only person I was made to believe in.

4 CM.

I was made to be loved by you.

You were never looking for a love in return because you were already fulfilled in the love you have for yourself. You already knew my fascination of you alone would produce a desire to love you.

You have no needs or demands for me to fulfill for you. You satisfying yourself gives me the freedom to let you be who you are without an exchange. There's no pressure in being with you because all of you wants me while none of you needs me.

I was made to receive all of my life through you. It's what makes me human. To earn anything from you is to stop being human. You made me to receive you as My Gift who never stops giving and serving me.

You've given me a life of asking and receiving but never striving and earning.

To obey you is to let you be God to me.
